Subject: Nomination Request for Participation in the training workshop “Leveraging the ACASA Portal for BRAC's Climate Adaptation and Long-term Agro-Advisory Services”- 17-19 June, 2025, at BCDM Rajendrapur, Gazipur.

Greetings from the Bangladesh Agricultural Research Council (BARC), Farmgate, Dhaka!

Bangladesh Agricultural Research Council (BARC) has been implementing the “Atlas of Climate Adaptation in South Asian Agriculture (ACASA)” project since March 2023, in collaboration with the Borlaug Institute for South Asia (BISA), India, with financial support from the Gates Foundation. This initiative provides localized data to support climate-smart agricultural planning, helping identify climate hazards, exposure, and adaptation needs across South Asia.

As part of this collaboration, Bangladesh Agricultural Research Council (BARC) with the support from BRAC is organizing a national training workshop titled “Leveraging the ACASA Portal for BRAC's Climate Adaptation and Long-term Agro-Advisory Services”. The event will take place since 17 to 19 June 2025 at BCDM, Rajendrapur, Gazipur, Bangladesh. The workshop will center on understanding the climate challenges facing Bangladesh's agriculture, introducing the ACASA portal and its role in local adaptation planning. It will also feature experience sharing on BRAC's Adaptation Clinic model, which supports climate resilience in vulnerable farming communities. The event aims to foster cross-sectoral collaboration and strengthen the capacity of officials and practitioners to leverage data-driven tools and climate-smart agricultural strategies.
