1. Career Brief

A passionate, knowledge- and goal-oriented Agronomy professional at the Bangladesh Agricultural Research Council (BARC), specializing in Crop Science, Soil Management, and Sustainable Practices. With extensive experience across the National Agricultural Research System (NARS), I excel in coordinating field experiments, rigorous data analysis, and research monitoring.

My expertise lies in bridging the gap between innovation and impact through effective technology transfer and the monitoring of agricultural advancements. Dedicated to enhancing national crop productivity and food security, I leverage strategic coordination and scientific research to drive long-term, climate-resilient agricultural development across Bangladesh.
