○ 本学修了後の予定(Schedule after completion of the University of Tsukuba)

After completing my PhD at the University of Tsukuba, I plan to return to Bangladesh and continue my career at the Bangladesh Agricultural Research Council (BARC). I aim to apply the knowledge and research experience gained during my doctoral studies to advance agricultural research, promote precision agriculture, and contribute to sustainable agricultural development. Through my work, I hope to improve soil fertility management, enhance crop productivity, and support evidence-based agricultural policies for the benefit of Bangladesh.
