Preface

The Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS) serves a crucial role by delivering accurate statistical data essential for national planning and development initiatives. In contemporary governance, access to reliable data is fundamental for effective policy formulation, implementation, monitoring, and evaluation. Beyond data collection, the BBS conducts thorough analyses to inform policymakers about demographic trends, economic indicators, and social conditions. This evidence-based methodology promotes informed decision-making and targeted interventions to address national challenges. Committed to ongoing improvement, the BBS adopts innovative methods to enhance the quality and relevance of its data, thus supporting informed governance and sustainable development in Bangladesh. In this context, the “Monthly Statistical Bulletin – Bangladesh” is a timely and significant publication that will support evidence-based decision-making by presenting various socio-economic indicators of the country. I hope the updated information included in this bulletin covering population, economy, agriculture, industry, health, education, trade, and transportation will be meaningful and valuable to relevant stakeholders.

I sincerely appreciate the Director of the National Accounting Wing, BBS, along with the Joint Director, all Deputy Directors, and especially the Deputy Director of the Publication Section and all the Officials of this Section for their steadfast dedication, exemplary efforts, and professionalism in preparing and executing this publication. I would particularly like to mention that such publications are not merely tools for information dissemination; they serve as pillars in national development endeavors and the stakeholders' demand.

Moreover, it is imperative to recognize the invaluable contributions of the Officials from the concerned Wings of BBS and various departments, divisions, and ministries. Their collaboration, commitment, and dedication are vital for the successful advancement of this publication. These collective endeavors are anticipated to culminate in significant achievements in the forthcoming years.

In envisioning this publication's future, there is a definite objective to enhance its content by incorporating analytical data that conforms to global standards. To realize this goal, constructive feedback from researchers, policymakers, planners, and general users will be instrumental in driving this initiative forward.
