Director General Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics

Preface

Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics (BBS) plays a crucial role by delivering accurate statistical data essential for national planning and development initiatives. In contemporary governance, access to reliable data is fundamental for effective policy formulation, implementation, monitoring, and evaluation. Beyond data collection, the BBS conducts thorough analyses in order to inform policymakers about demographic trends, economic indicators, and social conditions. This evidence-based methodology promotes informed decision-making and targeted interventions to address national challenges. In this context, the “Monthly Statistical Bulletin – Bangladesh” is a timely and significant publication that will support evidence-based decision-making by presenting various socio-economic indicators of the country. I hope the updated information included in this bulletin covering population, economy, agriculture, industry, health, education, trade, and transportation will be meaningful and valuable to relevant stakeholders.

I sincerely appreciate the National Accounting Wing for their steadfast dedication, and professionalism in preparing and executing this publication. I also acknowledge the contribution and collaboration of the Officials of concerned Wings of BBS and different departments, divisions, and ministries. Their collaboration, commitment, and dedication are vital for the successful advancement of this publication.

In envisioning this publication's future, there is a definite objective to enhance its content by incorporating analytical data that conforms to global standards. To realize this goal, constructive feedback from researchers, policymakers, planners, and general users will be instrumental in driving this initiative forward.

A Monthly Statistical Bulletin-Bangladesh is a regularly published document summarizing statistics and key data points for a given month, often focusing on economic and social indicators. It is a concise resource for tracking trends and developments in various sectors. The National Accounting Wing of the BBS takes significant pleasure in systematically compiling and publishing the Monthly Statistical Bulletin-Bangladesh. This Bulletin comprises essential indicators gathered from various Wings within the BBS, along with inputs from other relevant agencies, departments, divisions, and ministries. It is a vital resource for researchers, planners, policymakers, stakeholders, and national accounts compilers, enhancing informed decision-making and facilitating effective planning processes.

My profound gratitude goes to the Director General and Deputy Director General of BBS for their continuous support and valuable advice on keeping the compilation task on track. Their exemplary leadership and meticulous coordination have been essential in overseeing the various initiatives undertaken during this period.

I sincerely appreciate the dedicated Officials of the Publication Section, National Accounting Wing, who were led by Mr. Shapon Kumar, Deputy Director. Their thorough publication review and insightful and constructive feedback have greatly enhanced the quality of the publication. The collaborative efforts of this team have not only improved the accuracy of the data presented but have also strengthened the integrity of our findings. I must be thankful to all BBS officials and staff at the district and divisional levels. I value the support and help they have rendered in collecting and providing data on time every month. Data collection is a vital part of the Compilation process, and it is difficult and impossible to produce accurate and reliable results without good-quality data collection.

I would also like to recognize the Joint Director, Deputy Directors, Statistical Officers, Assistant Statistical Officers, Statistical Investigators, Thana Statisticians, Statistical Assistants, etc., of the National Accounting Wing, BBS, and all other officers and staff who worked hard to provide, collect, process, analyze data, and produce this publication on time.

Their collaboration, commitment, and dedication are essential for the successful progress of this publication. The collective efforts of all involved are poised to result in significant accomplishments in the upcoming months.
