1. INTRODUCTION

- 1.1 The Government has authorized the Bangladesh Telecommunication Regulatory Commission (BTRC/Commission) to issue the approved Regulatory and Licensing Guidelines for Cellular Mobile Services in Bangladesh. As such the Commission has been empowered by the Government under Section 36 of the Bangladesh Telecommunication Regulation Act, 2001 (hereinafter referred to as 'the Act') to issue Licenses for the operation and provisioning of respective telecommunication services.
- 1.2 Having given due consideration to the principles of transparency, fairness, non-discrimination, and all other relevant principles, the Commission has decided to issue this Regulatory and Licensing Guidelines for those applicants who are eligible and intend to provide Cellular Mobile Services in Bangladesh.
- 1.3 The Act, specifically provides, under Section 35 and 55, that the establishment, operation, or use of telecommunication systems including radio apparatus and providing telecommunication services in Bangladesh without a License is an offence, punishable with imprisonment or a fine, or both. The Act also provides for exclusive right and authority of the Commission in determining any and all issues in relation to assignment of spectrum and issuance of Radio Communications Apparatus License and any other related matters.
- 1.4 Over the past decades, Bangladesh's telecommunications sector has undergone profound growth and transformation, establishing itself as a cornerstone of the nation's digital ambitions and socio-economic development. From its initial phases of liberalization to its current role as a key driver of digital inclusion, the sector has made significant contributions by enhancing connectivity, promoting financial inclusion, and fostering socio-economic integration. The existing regulatory framework required urgent reform to address critical gaps in telecom infrastructure development, broadband expansion, integrated digital service delivery, infrastructure sharing, and inclusive access-particularly for youth and rural communities. In alignment with global trends toward open licensing, transparent governance, and shared infrastructure, the Government felt the necessity to modernize its regulatory institutions and frameworks to enhance regional competitiveness, ensure digital sovereignty, and attract sustainable investment.
- 1.5 The global telecommunications sector is evolving through continuous technological change, and Bangladesh must adapt its existing hierarchical and fragmented licensing framework to remain future-ready. With this backdrop, the Government has issued the Telecommunication Network and Licensing Policy, 2025 (hereinafter referred to as "the Policy") on September 18, 2025, with the vision to streamline regulatory mechanisms, promote a level playing field, elevate service quality, and foster sustainable innovation.

- 1.6 The telecommunications sector, industries, government and non-government organizations and society are required to be prepared to adopt eMBB (enhanced Mobile Broadband), mMTC (massive machine type communication), IoT (Internet of Things), AI (Artificial Intelligence), Cloud Computing etc. under next generation cellular mobile network technologies (5G and beyond). Due to the evolution of International Mobile Telephony (IMT) technology and rapid development in the cellular mobile phone sector, the Government issued technology neutral license for cellular mobile license.
- 1.7 Having given due consideration to the principles of transparency, fairness, nondiscrimination and all other relevant principles, the Regulatory and Licensing Guidelines for Cellular Mobile Services are hereby issued as envisaged in the Policy under the category of Access Network Service Provider (ANSP).
- 1.8 These Guidelines are available on the BTRC website: www.btrc.gov.bd for information only. The Generic forms of “Cellular Mobile Service Provider License (CMSP)” and “Radio Communications Apparatus License for Cellular Mobile Services” based on these Guidelines are appended as Appendix-1 and Appendix-2 respectively.
- 1.9 These Guidelines are approved by the Government and shall come into effect from the date of issuance by the Commission

2. INTERPRETATIONS, DEFINITIONS AND ABBREVIATIONS

- 11.10 For the purpose of connecting their last-mile network elements such as In-Building Solutions (IBS), Distributed Antenna Systems (DAS), and small cells, Cellular Mobile Service Providers may establish, build, and operate fiber connectivity up to their respective hub towers or Points of Presence (PoP) of the licensed transmission network operators. However, for connecting cellular mobile towers (other than IBS, DAS, Small cells etc.), CMSP shall obtain fiber connectivity in accordance with the provision of NICSP Licensing Guidelines.
- 11.11 In cases where the last-mile towers or associated network nodes are already connected through fiber infrastructure owned or operated by a NICSP licensee, the concerned Cellular Mobile Service Providers may obtain leased dark fiber or capacity from the respective NICSP operator, commensurate with its operational requirements.
- 11.12 Fiber-optic based transmission network and tower resources, which are under the scope of NICSP License, cannot be built and owned by ANSP licensees. However, this provision shall not be applicable to any tower or transmission infrastructure developed by Cellular Mobile Service Providers with approval from the Commission after issuance of these guidelines.
- 11.13 The licensee shall lease domestic transmission facilities (optical fiber-based) and tower-infrastructure from Network and Infrastructure Service Provider (NICSP) licensees, as per NICSP licensing guidelines.
