

Lutfey Siddiqi

Chief Adviser's Special Envoy on International Affairs

Adviser Status (Unremunerated)

Chief Adviser's Office.

Lutfey Siddiqi is Special Envoy of the head of the interim government of Bangladesh, with the ministerial rank of Advisor (Unremunerated). He is an Adjunct Professor at the National University of Singapore with joint appointments at the Risk Management Institute (RMI), the Department of Strategy & Policy, and the Institute for Environment & Sustainability (IES)

Concurrently, he is a Visiting Professor-in-Practice at the London School of Economics (IDEAS)

He is a member of the advisory boards of LSE Systemic Risk Centre, the Centre for Governance and Sustainability (CGS) at NUS business school, the Inclusion Initiative (LSE Behavioural Sciences as well as the governing boards of UWC Atlantic College and ShareAction

He previously served on the governing board of New City College (NCC Group London LSE Court of Governors and LSE investment committee

Previously, Lutfey was a Managing Director and member of the global executive committee for FX, Rates and Credit at UBS Investment Bank with responsibility for emerging markets. In addition, he was the founding head of UBS Knowledge Network, a member of the UBS Group Sustainability Council, and a designated opinion leader contributing to cross-divisional white papers and media outreach. Prior to that, he ran Asia-wide businesses for UBS and Barclays based in Singapore, with teams spanning Japan, Australia, Korea, India, Greater China and ASEAN.

Lutfey was recognized as a Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum in 2012 where he has served on their global future councils since 2014, contributed to the annual risk report since 2013 and spoken on the official program at Davos for several years.

A former board member of CFA Singapore, he was an inaugural member of the CFA Future of Finance content council and has also served briefly on the executive leadership team of CFA Institute.

He has a Masters in Economics from LSE, a first class BSc (hon) in Econometrics from the University of York, and has completed leadership courses at Harvard, Oxford, IMD and the LKY School of Public Policy. He also holds the Financial Times diploma for non-executive directors.

Apart from core modules in finance and economics, Lutfey teaches and convenes on applied topics in risk management, global macro investing, fixed income and currency markets, emerging markets including central bank policy financial regulations, sustainability & green finance, institutional change, leadership and board governance.

Twitter @Lutfeys