

ET LAB

ET Lab:

An Electrical Lab is a facility equipped for studying, experimenting, and testing various electrical systems and components. It typically contains equipment like multimeters, oscilloscopes, power supplies, transformers, motors, and circuit boards, allowing users to perform experiments related to circuits, electrical machines, power systems, and electronics. The lab is essential for hands-on learning in fields such as electrical engineering, enabling students and professionals to design, analyze, and troubleshoot electrical systems, understand theoretical concepts through practical experiments, and explore innovations in energy and power technologies.

	AC Circuit and Network Trainer	02	2095			Active
	DC Machine Lab Trainer	1	2095			Active
	Electrical Wireing Training Board	2	2095			Active
	Washing Machine	1	424			inActive
	High Frequency Desktop	1	2060			Active
	Function Generator	1	925			InActive
	Multimedia Projector	1	926			InActive
	De-Humidifier	1	408			InActive
	Basic Electronics Trainer	3	2082			Active
	Advance Sensor Experimental Lab	2	2093			Active
	Low Voltage Measuring Instrument Trainer	1	2083			Active
	Solar Generator	4	2083			Active
	Solar Sysrem kit	2	2083			Active
	Portable Power Factor Meter	4	426			InActive
	Digital Insulation Tester	4	420			InActive
	Portable Single Phase watt Meter	4	420	Student	Govt	InActive
	Earth Tester	2	420			InActive
	Electronic Hand Blower	1	420			InActive
	DC Permanent Magnet Machine	1	421			InActive
Single Phase Induction Motor	1	421			InActive
DC Shunt Wound Machine	1	421			InActive
DC Series Wound Machine	1	421			InActive
	DC Compound Wound Machine	1	421			InActive

	Three Phase Salient Polebynchronous Machine	1	421			InActive
	Table		13			Active
	chair		15			Active
	Light		13			Active
	Fan		10			Active
