

Being biodegradable and recycleble, this natural fiber is an environmet friendly product.

Historically, it is the golden fiber of Bangladesh.

Despite some ups and downs over the years, this sector has now made a strong comeback in the global market due to the diversification of jute products.

Around 235 types of diversified jute products are now being produced by a total of 636 small and medium entrepreneurs. This include differant type of bags, shoes, cushions & pillows, baskets, floor cover, table stationeries, ornaments, showpieces, tablemats & fashion accessories.
