Young Leaders' Program (School of Government) Curriculum Guidelines

I Basic Concepts

1. Each subject will deal with theories based not only on the experiences of the so-called modern Western World, but also on those concerned with the historical experiences of Japan and other non-Western countries. While analyzing commonalities in the modernization process along with its various possibilities, the courses seek to find the most desirable method for each country's modernization. (Comparative Approach)
2. Through modernization, our thoughts and ideas undergo deep transformations. However, the curriculum will not be concerned with modern ideas alone, but will also incorporate basic premises from the classical civilizations and ideas of the great thinkers. (Emphasis on liberal arts education aiming at self-relativization and critical thinking)
3. Going beyond instruction that is related to skills and knowledge, the curriculum will emphasize the fostering of students' ideas; identifying problems; and developing the ability to arrive at their own solutions. (Emphasis on discussion and self-study)

YLP-MEXT Scholarship Program

Young Leaders Program

School of Government

School of Local Governance

政策研究大学院大学
NATIONAL GRADUATE INSTITUTE FOR POLICY STUDIES

About the Program

The YLP is a one-year program that culminates in a Master's Degree in Public Policy. The YLP is part of the Japanese government's Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT) scholarship program.

The YLP has two parallel and overlapping programs run through the School of Government and the School of Local Governance. The curriculum for both courses is taught entirely in English and covers a wide range of topics concerning public administration and policy formulation. It also offers the opportunity for intensive discussion with politicians, high-level government officials, corporate directors, journalists and other leaders. The program includes a field trip and a workshop and requires a final paper based on independent study. There are opportunities to collaborate on policy research with other institutions, including Japan's central and local governments. The colloquium, which meets seven or eight times per semester, is an unrivalled opportunity to discuss fresh ideas with eminent speakers.

Goals and mission

The goal of the YLP is to cultivate national leaders of the future in Asia and around the world. Participants gain a deep understanding of Japan through their activities and work during the program and build the foundations for a network of friendly relationships and improved policy planning capacity among national leaders.

Graduates from the YLP are expected to return to their former governmental organizations and apply their knowledge and experience to become strong leaders.

Target group

The YLP is for exceptionally promising young government officials who have already shown their dedication through work experience in public administration. Students are admitted on the basis of an appraisal of their potential to become future leaders at home, to play important roles in their countries' development and to maintain strong, long-lasting working relationships with Japan and other countries around the world.

Coursework

The YLP offers a wide range of courses concerning public administration, economics, political science and policy formulation. In addition to the required courses, students can select subjects in accordance with their interests and needs. All courses are taught in English.

Colloquium

One of the unique features of the YLP is the Colloquium, where YLP students are offered an exclusive and unrivalled opportunity to discuss and share ideas with a diverse range of eminent speakers, including many distinguished government leaders and business executives. The Colloquium meets fifteen or sixteen times a year, divided between the fall and spring terms.

Independent Study

During the independent study you work one-on-one with an instructor on your master's thesis (or "policy paper") on a particular topic related to public administration and policy formulation. Students are supported in their research by the Center for Professional Communication (CPC) that organizes Writing Workshops as well as individual consultation throughout the year. The CPC will also help students improve their presentation skills. All students will give a presentation on their research in July.

Field Trip (School of Government)

Educational field trip is organized and provide a great opportunity to learn about local governments and communities, and socioeconomic developments in Japan. The field trips complement what is being taught in the classrooms and take you to places that you may not be able to explore and learn about on your own. You will visit central and local government offices, cultural and historical heritage sites, and industrial facilities.

Workshop (School of Local Governance)

During the workshop, you will visit local governments to meet with officials who will share their first-hand experience and practice in policy planning and implementation. You will also have a chance to visit various facilities such as a day care center for elderly people and a local economic and tourism development facility. You may thus be able to catch a glimpse of how the Japanese local government system actually works in everyday life in Japan.

Resources

Center for Professional Communication

The mission of the Center for Professional Communication is to support GRIPS' students, faculty, and staff in developing effective professional communication skills and competencies needed to communicate productively in an environment of multiple stakeholders. To this end, we offer a range of instruction and support in fundamental areas of professional communication in English and Japanese including policy paper writing, professional speaking, grant proposal writing, and digital communications. The center supports Japanese language learning of students who lack Japanese language proficiency for daily living and study. The purpose is to help students achieve greater competence in comprehension and speaking. The center also facilitates cultural and traditional experiences.

Center for Data Science

The progress of digital innovation has been making it possible to utilize diverse big data via the internet, and there arise immense expectations to the government for implementing effective policy based on precise predictions by the use of big data to provide better solutions to social problems. Needless to say, data science is crucial in this context. To deal with this circumstance, GRIPS launched the Center for Data Science in April 2022 for the purpose of promoting deeper data science education and research. Taking advantage of holding both specialized policymakers with extensive practical experience who are well-versed in actual policymaking processes and researchers in the field of policy science in academia, GRIPS will carry out activities to develop the Center for Data Science as a pioneering and unique data science research hub in the field of policy science, aiming at fostering policymakers suited for the 21st century.

Alumni Voices

Young Leaders Program (School of Government)

Sukant Vatsa (India, 2018)

Additional Private Secretary to the Hon'ble Minister for Information & Broadcasting and Youth Affairs & Sports, Govt. of India

Young Leaders Program (YLP) at GRIPS is an experience which is hard to put down in words. The excellent academic exposure provided by vastly experienced faculty enriches the repertoire of young administrators. The academic rigour is combined with numerous opportunities for diverse social interactions, both on and off-campus which leaves everlasting bonds of friendship and memories. Add to it, the warmth and charm of the beautiful country of Japan, which makes the stay a once in a lifetime experience. I recommend every budding civil servant to join YLP. I can promise, you will be overwhelmed. Be here to experience it.

Miskolczi-Bodnár Éva (Hungary, 2019)

Legal advisor and Justice Attaché, Permanent Representation of Hungary to the EU (Belgium)

Studying at GRIPS was enriching on both an academic and personal level, as the program not only provided in-depth and up-to-date knowledge and interesting discussion on the most pressing issues on the world agenda with the pioneers of the fields, but also lasting friendships with fellow students. The dedication of the professors and the staff to education and student welfare was truly unparalleled. The social activities, trips and cultural events granted also an invaluable chance to experience Japanese life and culture. Therefore, the privilege of being a YLP student was undoubtedly the most-unforgettable and life-changing experience for me.

Vanisova Veronika (Czech Republic, 2020)

Head of Unit of Direct Payments, Ministry of Agriculture of the Czech Republic

YLP stands for a one-of-a-kind opportunity that combines a high-quality education with a unique chance to experience the greatly admired Japanese culture. The exceptionally designed curriculum covers a rich variety of subjects and provides for enriching discussions with Japanese governmental officials as well as with other fellows from all around the world. The program also allows to learn about the socio-economic realities from the perspective of the Indo-Pacific region. Spending one year in Japan was a great privilege that empowered me to advance my career and, most importantly, it made me discover new horizons, views, and precious friendships.

Young Leaders Program (School of Local Governance)

Wit Prasompluem (Thailand, 2019)

Local Administration Extension Officer, Professional Level, Department of Local Administration, Ministry of Interior

It was an honor for me to study at GRIPS as a YLP student. It was indeed a memorable experience, as I had to live a student life abroad during the early outbreak of COVID-19 in Japan. Despite the difficulties and online classes for several months due to the pandemic, the professors and staff of GRIPS were always supportive and could help me to gain practical and theoretical knowledge from the Japanese perspective and to build international networks as intended. I feel truly proud and privileged to tell others that I am an alumnus of GRIPS under the YLP.

Briones Alyssa Marie Aspe (Philippines, 2020)

Local Government Operations Officer IV, Head, Strengthening Peace and Order Councils-Project Management Office, Department of the Interior and Local Government

In the midst of a global pandemic, the Young Leaders Program was the best thing that happened to me. Despite taking classes online, I learned a lot from professors and classmates through unique opportunities. The program was well-designed; lessons were relevant in my career in local governance. Everyone in GRIPS made the journey worthwhile. Through YLP, I met incredible international young leaders, made best friends from Czech Republic, South Korea, Brunei, and Indonesia, had a family away from home, and had the best year ever. YLP molded me to become humbler and more service-oriented, in this ever-changing and dynamic world.
