Annual Maintenance and Rehabilitation Needs Report 2025-2026

HDM Circle
July 2025

PREFACE

This is the 2025-26 edition of the Maintenance and Rehabilitation Needs Report prepared from the output of the HDM-4 (Ver-1.3) Analysis. The RMMS database and the HDM-4 model have been utilized to derive yearly highways maintenance demand for RHD. During the financial year 2024-25, HDM Operation Division of HDM Circle conducted Roughness Survey to acquire IRI data on 20,960.540 km of paved highways of the RHD Highway Network. This year Roughometer-III (provided by the Australian Highway Research Board, ARRB) was mainly used to obtain Roughness (IRI) Data. The RMMS Database was updated accordingly and used as an input for the 2024-25 fiscal year's HDM Analysis to find out maintenance demand.

Despite many challenges, since the financial year 2022-23 the HDM Report publication has incorporated several new dimensions. These enhancements continue to be implemented in the 2025-26 report, as outlined below:

- Budget figures in crores: All government budget publications in Bangladesh use lakhs or crores as units. Therefore, all the demands of this year's HDM report have been expressed in crores instead of millions to align with the Highway Transport and Highways Division (RTHD) maintenance budget.
- Highway conditions in Appendix-A: The condition of highway has been included in Appendix-A of this report. As a result, per RTHD's notification, several highway segments in poor to very bad condition will receive priority for approval under the Periodic Maintenance Program (PMP, "Highway-Major" category) maintenance budget.
- Focused on actual needs: While running the HDM-4 model this year, the analysis has been limited to excluding ongoing works. This approach reflects the actual maintenance needs of RHD, as the full-network analysis was discarded to avoid confusion among budget planners.
- Alignment with budget codes: The work types used in the HDM-4 software have been compared and aligned with the maintenance budget heads and relevant economic codes. Consequently, the recommended work categories in the HDM output are streamlined with the official budget/economic code classifications.

- Clarification of recommendations: The HDM report's most vital part is the set of maintenance work recommendations for various highway segments (tabulated in Appendix-A). Previously, these recommendations appeared as abbreviations or codes (used for running the HDM-4 software), which field engineers found incomprehensible due to lack of clarification. To address this issue, the report now includes an abbreviations list in Appendix-A, making the HDM-4 recommendation codes easier to interpret for field-level engineers.

Limitations of the HDM Analysis:

- Lack of socio-economic and political considerations: The HDM analysis prioritizes maintenance needs by a simple Net Present Value (NPV) to cost ratio, without accounting for socio-economic or political factors. This is a significant limitation because such factors are crucial in the context of Bangladesh for deciding where and when to maintain highways. Future analyses should incorporate these considerations to ensure more balanced and context-sensitive prioritization.
- Exclusion of ongoing projects in analysis: Some highways sections currently under Annual Development Projects (ADP) or the Periodic Maintenance Program (Highway-Major) were left out of the HDM analysis, based on field data assuming these projects would be completed by the end of the fiscal year. In reality, due to socio-political interference and other uncertainties, it is not always possible to complete these projects as planned. As a result, if those works remain unfinished, the maintenance needs for those highway sections will roll over to the next year—likely increasing next year's overall maintenance demand beyond what this report indicates.
- Newly transferred highways not included: Highways recently transferred to RHD from other organizations could not be surveyed this year due to time constraints, and thus they were excluded from the analysis. When these highways are surveyed and included in future analyses, their maintenance requirements will add to the total demand. This means the current report may be underestimating the actual maintenance needs because it does not account for these newly added highways.
- Omission of inaccessible highway sections: Certain highways that are difficult to access with vehicle-mounted survey equipment—such as remote areas in the Chittagong Hill Tracts and islands like Hatiya, Sandwip, and Kutubdia—were not surveyed and have never been included in the HDM report. Consequently, the maintenance needs of these inaccessible or remote highway sections are not represented in the analysis, leaving gaps in the comprehensive maintenance planning.

- Bias towards high-traffic highways: The HDM model's use of the NPV/Cost ratio for prioritization inherently favors highway segments with higher traffic volumes (which yield higher economic returns). As a result, lower-traffic highways—many of which are Zilla (district) highways—receive little to no priority for maintenance or rehabilitation under the current system. This approach overlooks the needs of less-traveled highways, so a separate prioritization process (as suggested by the Highway Master Plan) is necessary to ensure Zilla highways and other low-volume highways are not neglected.

Finally, I would like to extend heartfelt appreciation and thanks to all the Officers, staffs and the Individual Consultants under HDM Circle for their wholehearted efforts and also to the Officers of RHD Field Divisions for their co-operation during the data collection phase.

Executive Summary

A. Analysis of HDM Report:

The Highway Development and Management Model (HDM) is mainly an economic tool. It has been used to project the maintenance needs of the RHD Highway network and also to select and prioritize maintenance work based on NPV/Cost ratio. For this purpose, the analysis has been carried out for all Highways excluding ongoing projects and the Periodic Maintenance Program (Highway-Major) to assess the actual maintenance needs of the RHD Highways network. The projected overall maintenance needs from this year's HDM run have been depicted in the following table:

(In Crore)

| Year  | 2025-26   | 2026-27   | 2027-28   | 2028-29   | 2029-30   |
|-------|-----------|-----------|-----------|-----------|-----------|
| Total | 6,940.620 | 4,676.140 | 3,734.760 | 2,960.120 | 2,548.120 |

It is evident from the analysis that investment needs tend to decrease considerably provided that the 1st year's requirements are met completely. So, efforts should be given to maximize the 1st year's maintenance works to minimize backlogs.

An analysis of the collected data for multiple years shows that the Roughness Index of Highways under the RHD has declined each year. It implies that the utilization of maintenance funds is appropriate. As Highways Conditions have improved, poor to very bad category Highways have migrated to good to fair condition. It is also notable that the percentage of fair condition Highways has also decreased due to their migration to good conditions at a significant rate.

B. Current Government Policy:

After the expiry of Bangladesh's 8th Five-Year Plan (July 2020–June 2025), the interim government has undertaken several initiatives and plans for the transport sector. Key highlights are as follows:

Budget and Project Planning

- For the fiscal year 2025-26, there is a plan to invest over BDT 58,973.39 Crore in the transport and communication sector, which is 25.64% of total ADP and marking it as highest allocation in a single sector. This includes highways, railways, bridges, waterways, air transport and telecommunications.
- A budget of BDT 37,158.16 Crore for the Road Sub-sector and BDT 32,329.57 Crore for Roads Transport and highways division has been allocated for FY 2025-26.
- The Highway Master Plan (2009) is being updated to the Highway Master Plan (2040), as well as efforts are underway to implement new policies and regulations for a safer, more sustainable, and eco-friendly highway network.

Ban on Old and Unfit Vehicles

- The interim government has instructed that old and unfit buses, minibuses, and trucks be removed from the highways, setting deadlines and launching drives to enforce this. Owners are being offered facilities to purchase new vehicles.

Dumping stations for old vehicles are being established in Dhaka and Chattogram.

- There is ongoing work to finalize a new transport policy.

Structural and Legal Reforms in the Transport Sector

- Existing laws such as the Highway Transport Act 2018 and accompanying regulations are being updated.
- The authorities are looking to restructure organizations like the Dhaka Transport Coordination Authority (DTCA) and to form a new “Bangladesh Urban Transport Authority.”
- There are recommendations to form a government-controlled integrated bus company to improve accountability and discipline in the transport sector.

Long-term Integrated Planning

- The government’s special assistants have clarified that the goal is to build an integrated transport system suitable for the next 25-50 years, with calls for active private sector participation. Recently, committees have been formed to enhance logistics and transport sectors nationwide.

Summary

Despite the expiry of the 8th Five-Year Plan, the interim government is actively planning and implementing measures in the transport sector, focusing especially on enforcing legal directives, allocating new budgets, long-term master planning, and removing old vehicles from the highways.

CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION

1.1 Overview

The Roads and Highways Department (RHD) under the Ministry of Road Transport and Bridges is responsible for the management of the major road network in Bangladesh which includes National Highways, Regional Highways, and Zilla Highways. Proper maintenance and management of these assets is a fundamental requirement that is vital to the national economy. For optimization of the fund disbursement, RHD has been using the Highway Development and Management Model (i.e., HDM-4 Software) as an economic tool since 1999-2000. Since then, a Road Maintenance and Rehabilitation Needs Report (RMRNR) is published every year to assess a 5-year investment plan to meet acceptable levels of service provision for the RHD road network. The current Maintenance and Rehabilitation Needs Report of 2025-26 is a continuation of that process.

To achieve this, RHD paved Highways have been analysed to assess the overall long-term maintenance needs of the RHD road network. Ongoing ADB projects and Periodic Maintenance Programs (i.e., PMP Major) have been excluded from the HDM analysis to find out the immediate maintenance requirement. The outputs from HDM-4 are based on the Road Maintenance and Management System (RMMS) database of RHD. This report provides information for the Engineers of RHD to plan and distribute the road network allotment effectively.

1.2 Objectives of the Analysis

The main objectives of this analysis are:

- To project the total maintenance need of the RHD Highways network.
- To select and prioritize the maintenance works based on NPV (Net Present Value) over financial cost ratio.
- To develop a 5-year investment plan to meet acceptable levels of service provision for the RHD network.
- To provide recommendations for Engineers in RHD to improve the Highway network cost-effectively.

1.3 Methodology:

Data required for the analysis are mainly primary and obtained from the field survey method.

1.3.1. Data Collection Record

The data of the RMMS database is the fundamental input to HDM 4 analysis. In 2004 RHD undertook a major survey of its network covering around 15,000 km of Highways. The survey was comprehensive and included a full inventory, current condition (including deflection measurements), pavement structure, and ADT.

In 2006 further surveys were undertaken, originally intended to complete the remaining 2,542 kilometres that were not surveyed in 2004. Only around 2,000 km of Zilla Highways omitted in 2004 were surveyed and around 542 km of National Highways were re-surveyed. In late 2007 further Highways condition surveys commenced and were completed in May 2008.

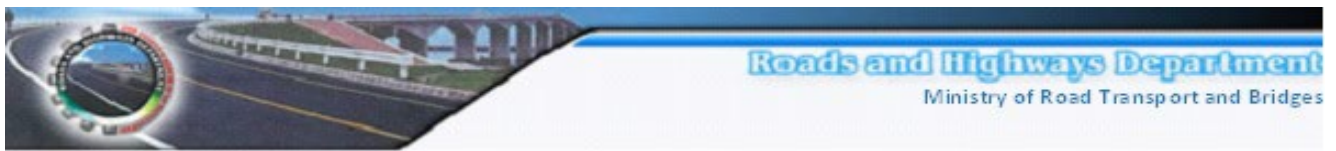

In 2013 a comprehensive Road Condition Assessment Survey was conducted by the HDM Circle. These surveys covered Pavement Inventory Survey in full RHD Road Network, Road Condition Survey, Traffic Survey, and Test Pit Survey.

In 2016 HDM Circle conducted a experimental survey for Pavement Inventory on two major highways (N1 and N3) and a Road Condition Survey on the entire road network.

In 2019 classified Traffic Count Survey has been conducted in 1167 stations.

Again in 2021-23 HDM Circle conducted comprehensive survey on Pavement Inventory, Road Condition, and Benkelman Beam deflection surveys by appointing of Consulting Firms.

This year the Roughness Survey was conducted by appointing Survey firm through e-GP system and HDM Circle's manpower monitoring the survey from November 2024 to April 2025.

1.3.2 Data Operation & Processing:

IRI Data collected with Roughometer-III from field divisions are initially entered in RMMS Database through a software also named RMMS (Ver 1.0). These data are then extracted through a second software named HDM Exports Tool to generate network and program file which is input files of HDM-4. These files are then imported into the main HDM-4 (Ver-1.3) software for further analysis and generate output. After the analysis of data with HDM 4 software, the obtained result is presented in tabular and graphical form as Needs Report Output.

1.3.3 Needs Report Output:

This report presents the results of HDM-4 analysis for National, Regional, and Zilla Highways networks. None of this work refers to improvement or development work – it is simply the work required to restore the existing road network to its original condition. It should therefore be classified as maintenance work and funded 100% through the Revenue Budget. But in recent days RTHD prohibits the execution of all kinds of rehabilitation works from PMP (Major) and encourages to execution of this nature of works through the ADP budget.

Rehabilitation is referred to as “backlog maintenance” as it is the result of under-investment in maintenance in the past. The Highways network major maintenance and rehabilitation needed for the year 2025-26 for National, Regional, and Zilla Highways Networks are presented in Appendix-A. The recurrent costs of the whole road network have been shown in Appendix B. It must be stressed, however, that HDM-4 is not a design tool. The Road Asset Management System (RAMS) approach emphasizes that the nominal treatment, recommended in the output, must be confirmed and detailed through a more comprehensive survey, investigation, and design process.

1.4 Scope and Limitation

All the unpaved roads were excluded from the analysis. Besides, the present version of the HDM-4 software (i.e., Version- 1.3) that RHD has been using for a long time is not capable of doing the socio-economic analysis and hence the socio-economic variables are excluded from the analysis. The RMMS database operating system is MS Windows XP (i.e., 32-bit) based which is an older version of Windows. Therefore, this obsolete version arises various complications during data processing and only works within the RHD headquarters LAN network with XP version desktop. However, this condition of the RMMS database limits the scope of HDM-4 further advanced analysis. The roads which are not yet included in RMMS (e.g. recently handed over roads, inaccessible hilly roads) are excluded from the analysis.

CHAPTER 2: DATABASE, TOOLS & SOFTWARES

The same maintenance standard set previously was used in the analysis. The unit cost of work was determined based on the RHD Schedule of Rates, 2022 (Updated on March 2023).

2.1 Road Asset Management System (RAMS)

To support RHD's responsibility to actively manage the nation's network of roads and bridges and subsequently streamline the planning of its maintenance and rehabilitation works a system was introduced in 2005-06. Each year this system is further developed to improve the selection and prioritization of maintenance works. The system is known as "RAMS", short for Road Asset Management System. It brings together all RHD's current databases and analytical procedures. The final output of RAMS is the RAMS Map, a single GIS-based map for each Division that combines all relevant information and shows decision-makers where they can most effectively allocate funds for maintenance and rehabilitation within the stipulated budgetary framework. The division-wise RAMS Maps have been published on RHD Website.

The strength of the RAMS Map is its simplicity. It presents information in a highly visual, graphical format and uses a minimal set of symbols and colours. It should be noted that this Maintenance Needs Report deals only with the needs of pavements and does not address the needs for bridges and structures.

2.2 IRI Measuring Tool

Fig-2.1: Roughometer-III (ARRB)

This roughness data is one of the major inputs of HDM-4 analysis. ARRB-manufactured Roughometer-III was used in the survey vehicles to obtain IRI data from all roads in relatively deteriorated condition (typically  $IRI > 8$ ). This year's HDM run was conducted with these updated IRI databases.

2.3 Road User Cost Data

The Road User Cost (RUC) data were provided by the Economic Circle of RHD. The data has been updated in November 2017.

These data are then extracted through a second software named HDM Exports Tool to generate network and program file which is input files of HDM-4. It is the software that is used to make the data of the RMMS database usable by the Highway Development and Management Software (HDM 4).

These network and program files are generated by the HDM export tool and then imported into the main Software HDM-4 (ver 1.3) for further analysis and generating output.

CHAPTER 3: CURRENT NETWORK CONDITION

3.1 The RHD Road Network

As of December 2023, the Total Road Length of the Roads and Highways Department is 22,719.30 km. A comprehensive Road validation was done during this survey Year which is summarized in Table 3-1. There are 117 nos of National highways and the total length of the National Highway is 4,293.84 Kilometre. The total number of Regional Highways is 153 nos and the total length of Regional Highways is 5,039.65 Kilometre. The total number of Zilla Highway is 730 nos and its total length is 13,385.81 Kilometres.

| Road Length in the Year 2024-25 |             |                    |
|----------------------------------------|-------------|--------------------|
| Class                           | Nos  | Length (Km) |
| National Highway                       | 117         | 4,293.84           |
| Regional Highway                       | 153         | 5,039.65           |
| Zilla Highway                          | 730         | 13,385.81          |
| Total =                         | 1000 | 22,719.30   |

In the following page, Table 3.2 shows the extent of the Highways covered by the roughness surveys carried out from November 2024 to April 2025. It is worth mentioning that Roughness Survey is conducted only on paved Highway. This year a significant length of road Rehabilitation/Reconstruction works are going on under the Annual Development Programme and PMP (Major). Due to such ongoing activities, it was not feasible to operate the survey vehicles on those roads. The roads handed over recently to RHD from different Organizations do not have inventory in RMMS Database and they cannot be included in the analysis. There are also some roads in RHD Road Network which are not accessible with the vehicle-mounted survey equipment i.e. Region, disconnected parts in Hill Tracts, islands (Hatiya, Sandwip, Kutubdia, etc), also remain excluded from the analysis.

The road condition can be grossly categorized into descriptive bands based on roughness. These categories are shown in Table 3.3. Different ranges are adopted for each road class to reflect their relative importance and the level of service that should be expected from each road class.

CHAPTER 4: HDM-4 PROGRAMME ANALYSIS

4.1 Principles of Programme Analysis

The Program analysis in HDM-4 predicts the pavement conditions (performance), the required treatments, costs, and benefits over a specified period (in this case 05 years) under a user-defined maintenance strategy. The costs used in this analysis include the cost of capital investment, maintenance costs, and vehicle operating costs. The costs of the “with maintenance” scenario is only depicted here.

Details of treatments considered in Bangladesh can be seen in Table 4.1. Maintenance strategies were set for these treatments based on road conditions, traffic, and roughness data for different classes of Highways. The holding strategy has been included in Table 4.1 which means that DBST / Carpeting has to be provided instead of going for higher treatment if there is a shortage of funds to keep the roads in maintainable condition.

The benefits and costs of the above scenarios are compared for an HDM-4 life cycle analysis of 05 years. The Net Present Value (NPV)/costs were utilized to prioritize treatment options at a 12% discount rate. NPV/cost was chosen to obtain maximum benefits as it produces the highest benefits when there is a crisis in funding.

4.2. Description of Treatments

The HDM analysis considers several treatments representing the most commonly used types of maintenance work items in Bangladesh. Table 4.1 provides details of these treatments and the assumptions made for HDM.

Table 4.1: Maintenance and Rehabilitation Treatments and Assumptions Used in HDM

| Type of Maintenance         | Sub-Type                | Description                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Routine Maintenance  | Off-pavement works      | Includes all regular works along a road such as maintaining shoulders, roadside vegetation control, cleaning side drains and pipe culverts, and maintenance of signs and signals.                                                                                                                                                       |
|                             | Patching                | Repair of potholes based on a standard pothole unit of 0.01m <sup>3</sup> per pothole. The quantity of pothole repair shall not be more than 2% of the total surface.                                                                                                                                                                   |
|                             | Crack Sealing           | Sealing to cracks using Primer Seal/Seal Coat/SBST. It assumes a maximum in any one kilometre of 8% is affected.                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
|                             | Carpeting/Overlay       | Premixed dense bituminous surfacing overlay 30 mm thick or Carpeting used in medium to highly trafficked roads. The carefully controlled overlay may be applied in response to a badly damaged road surface or high roughness to obtain a predefined roughness level (3.5 to 4.5 IRI). Life expectancy is assumed to be 1.5-2.0 years.  |
| Periodic Maintenance | Preparatory Patching    | Patching potholes and regulating surface irregularities before undertaking the treatments like DBST or DBS Overlay. Should not be more than 2% of the total quantity of overlay for National roads and a maximum of 5% for Regional roads.                                                                                              |
|                             | Preparatory Edge Repair | Allows for restoring pavement edges that have been damaged by vehicles leaving the road to drive onto the shoulder before undertaking the treatments like DBST or DBS Overlay.                                                                                                                                                          |
|                             | DBST                    | Applying two layers of surface treatments on the prepared road surface. This is applied on medium to the highly trafficked road. Life expectancy is assumed to be 2-3 years.                                                                                                                                                            |
|                             | Overlay                 | Machine laid premixed dense bituminous surfacing overlay 40 – 80 mm thick used in medium to highly trafficked roads. The carefully controlled overlay may be applied in response to a badly damaged road surface or high roughness to obtain a predefined roughness level (2.5 to 3.0 IRI). Life expectancy is assumed to be 3-4 years. |

| Rehabilitation | Partial Reconstruction | Reconstruction of the upper pavement layers following scarification of the existing damaged surface and re-compaction. Normally a 200-300 mm crushed aggregate base with a dense bituminous surfacing between 75 and 195mm, depending on the traffic level. This is a treatment to overcome higher roughness or higher levels of surface cracking resulting from delayed maintenance. Life expectancy should be 8-10 years before major periodic maintenance. Full design of the pavement must be undertaken before treatment. Shoulder rehabilitation would also be provided where necessary.                                                                            |

Normally 300mm Improved Subgrade, 200 mm Sub-Base, and 200-300 mm crushed aggregate base with a dense bituminous surfacing between 75 and 195mm, depending on the traffic level. Widening of the road is not considered. If full reconstruction is capital work in the project, then the pavement must be fully designed before construction, and shoulder rehabilitation provided where necessary. Life expectancy should be 8-10 years before major periodic maintenance. Applied where there are extremely high levels of roughness and extensive cracking. |

4.3: Maintenance Strategies:

Table 4.2 shows the different maintenance standards adopted for HDM analysis for the different classes of Highways. These standards are based on experience and analysis of road conditions in Bangladesh and are considered to be a reliable basis for HDM-4 to estimate the economic performance of the network. Final treatment designs must be separately established.

Maintenance standards have been kept similar to the previous year's standards. The introduction of a DBST in the holding strategy of National and Regional Highways when the roughness will exceed 9 IRI. Similarly, Carpeting was introduced in the holding strategy of Zilla Highways for roughness greater than 12 IRI.

Corridor roads (N1, N2, N3, N4, N5, N6, N7 and N8) were given high priority and hence they were analysed separately as they cover the major traffic and will be part of the Asian Highways and BBIN Highways Network soon. Hence, periodic maintenance was considered at 4 IRI. The other National highways, Regional highways and Zilla Highways were considered for periodic maintenance at 5.0, 5.5 and 6.0 IRI respectively. "Holding maintenance strategy" was considered to maintain roads using DBST or carpeting 40 mm when funding is limited and higher treatments cannot be provided. Application of DBST or carpeting 40 mm can then delay further road deterioration.

CHAPTER 5: RESULTS OF HDM-4 ANALYSIS

5.1 Analysis Procedure

The analysis was carried out to run all roads by removing ongoing work segments to get the immediate funding needs for the year 2025-26. This will also allow a comparison between last year's demands to get a picture of overall improvement in network conditions.

5.2 Maintenance & Rehabilitation Needs

The term “Overall Maintenance Needs” denotes the summation of Routine Maintenance, PMP (Major), PMP (Minor), PMP (Dept. Labour Wages), PMP (Sign-Signal), PMP (Emergency/VVIP). Like the previous years, HDM-4 analysis was carried out for all road networks without ongoing work to get the picture of immediate needs. This has produced a detailed work program for the full 20-year analysis period. However, only the first 5-years should be considered when estimating future funding needs due to the uncertainty about future conditions and the availability of funds.

The unconstrained total cost of the initial 5 years for all analysed road lengths is given in Table 5.1 and Figure 5.1 below. Here, the total 05 (five) years cost for overall maintenance needs is 20,859.76 Crore taka wherein the average demand per year is around 4,171.95 Crore taka. The figure depicts that if the major portion (6,940.62 Crore out of 20,859.76 Crore taka) of the total works demand is fulfilled in the 1st year then this demand will be substantially below the average demand per year in the subsequent years.

5.3 Immediate Maintenance Demand for the Fiscal Year 2025-26

A list of ongoing projects and Periodic Maintenance Programme (Road-Major) were collected from various projects and fields and also the list of ongoing works of the previous year was collected. Ongoing segments were then excluded from the HDM run and the remaining sections were analysed separately. This was done to avoid duplication of the current year's maintenance program and to ascertain the actual immediate needs for a maintenance budget.

5.4 Work Category-wise Needs for the Next 05 (Five) Years

This year HDM-4 has been run excluding ongoing projects to assess the actual needs of the network. Most of the ongoing works have more 2-3 years of project period with 3 years extended Defect Liability Period (DLP). Here it is assumed that these roads will not require periodic maintenance before the end of the five-year period and thus the five-year plan is also based on the “Excluding ongoing Roads” HDM Output.

6.1 Major Findings:

The overall maintenance needs for the coming 05 (five) years and the immediate maintenance needs for the years 2025-26 are presented in Table 6.1 and Table 6.2 respectively:

6.2 Budgetary Provision:

Indeed, the present HDM-4 (Version 1.3) software has been used in RHD since 2000. The four work codes used to run the software are the maintenance budget codes that were used 25 years ago.

Now-a-days, with the introduction of iBAS++ (Integrated Budget and Accounting System), maintenance budget codes have become much more modern, analysed, and precise. If it is possible to run the updated version of HDM-4 (Ver. 2.12.02), the work codes can be made compatible with iBAS++. To make the present report usable to its principal stakeholders, the Planning and Maintenance Wing of RHD and Budget Wing of RTHD, the above tabulated (6.1 & 6.2) maintenance needs should be read together with the following table:

6.3 Recommendations:

- This report refers to the recommendation and prioritization of RHD's maintenance programme as outlined in Appendix-A.
- Since the recommendation for maintenance is prioritised using the NPV/Cost ratio, National and Regional Highways are often selected over Zilla highways, even when the latter are in poor condition and urgently require treatments. In such instances, it is essential to carefully review the field office's inspection report and establish priorities accordingly.
- Treatments recommended in Appendix-A are applicable to flexible pavement only. Treatment options like SBST/DBST/Seal Coat/DBS-WC as well as Partial and Full reconstruction aren't applicable to rigid pavement sections. Rigid pavements should be addressed with specific structural designs provided by the Road Design & Safety Circle of RHD.
- If development or major maintenance begins after the survey for a segment already listed in Appendix-A, that segment will be deemed excluded.

- During PMP-Major estimate preparation if any segment of ongoing works exists in Appendix-A that portion of segment must be excluded from the estimates.
- For highway segments where work is ongoing works under ADP/PMP-Major or where the condition is assessed as good to fair, no maintenance programmes will be implemented on these segments.
- Since HDM-4 is an economic tool for the selection and prioritization of Highways maintenance options, field visits and treatment design verification specially for Partial reconstruction and Full reconstructions must be undertaken by Road Design and Safety Circle before finalizing treatment options.
- To address backlog Maintenance (partial and full reconstruction), there may be a separate operational budget provision or Programme for clearing this Backlog Maintenance.
- The Bitumen Penetration Grade must be 60/70 for construction of DBS-BC and DBS-WC and should be done by using Asphalt Batching Plant.
- Routine maintenance work demand has risen compared to previous years, indicating that an increased budget allocation for routine maintenance should be necessary.
- There should be also an increase in the budget for Periodic Maintenance Programme work to improve further total Road Condition from Good to Fair.
- An increase in demand for Partial/Full Reconstruction Work indicates that the strength of the Highways has been reduced or Traffic load has been increased. Therefore, Axle loads on those roads should be controlled urgently.
