

From the Desk of the Editor

The January-March 2017 issue of the UGC Bulletin is being published in due time. Mr. Faruque, in charge of Public Relation Division, and his team deserve special thanks for their efforts.

In recent years UGC's approach to enhancing the quality of higher education at tertiary level has received a paradigm shift. It goes without saying that 'quality matters', and this has become imperative to enhance and sustain the quality of teaching-learning and research at the universities of Bangladesh. In today's competitive world it has become all the more important to upgrade and assess the quality of education at all levels – particularly at the tertiary level. The University Grants Commission of Bangladesh has established a 'Quality Assurance Cell' (QAC) in the Commission and under the able guidance of QAC 'Institutional Quality Assurance cell' (IQAC) have been established at 63 Public and Private universities in Bangladesh. The initial financial support to establish IQAC at the universities came from 'Higher Education Quality Enhancement Project (HEQEP)' being executed by UGC. Previously there was no mechanism in our country to assess the quality of education/programs offered by our universities. With the establishment of IQAC it has now become mandatory for all to evaluate their qualities. The respective university needs to carry on with IQAC and incorporate budgetary provision in the revenue budget. The Government has recently enacted a law to establish the 'Accreditation Council', and in due course all universities/programs must be certified by this Council. If properly implemented, Bangladesh under the able leadership of Prime Minister Shaik Hasina, will witness a quantum shift in qualities in higher education in near future.
